I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs Enzo Forcellati and Lisa Roemmich (collectively, the “Class Representatives” or the “Plaintiffs”), through their Court-appointed counsel Bursor & Fisher, P.A., Faruqi & Faruqi, LLP, and Vozzolo, LLC (collectively, “Class Counsel”), respectfully submit this memorandum of points and authorities in support of their motion for approval of an award of attorneys’ fees, reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses, and payment of service awards in connection with the class-wide settlement of this action.¹

As set forth in more detail in the Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement (which is incorporated herein by reference), pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, each Class Member may submit a claim for up to two full refunds for the children’s homeopathic products at issue in this case. See 10/14/2016 Fisher Decl., Ex. 1 (“Settlement Agreement”), § 3. There is no limit on the number of full refunds that Defendants will pay to Class Members who provide proof of purchase. Id. Additionally, there is no cap on the amount of money that Defendants will pay to Class Members. Id. As a result, there is no risk that Class Members’ refunds will be prorated or reduced for any reason. This payment is not subject to pro rata dilution or reduction by any payment to Class Counsel. Id. The Settlement Class is defined to include:

All persons in the United States who purchased the following Hyland’s products on or after March 8, 2008: (i) Cold ‘n Cough 4 Kids, (ii) Cough Syrup with 100% Natural Honey, (iii) Sniffles ‘n Sneezes 4 Kids, (iv) Cold Relief Strips 4 Kids with Zinc, (v) Nighttime Cold ‘n Cough 4 Kids, (vi) Complete Flu Care 4 Kids, (vii) Baby Teething Gel, (viii) Baby Cough Syrup, (ix) Baby Gas Drops, (x) Baby Infant Earache Drops, and (xi) Baby Nighttime Tiny Cold Syrup. Excluded from the ¹ The Stipulation of Settlement (“Settlement” or “Settlement Agreement”) and its exhibits are attached as Exhibit 1 to the 10/14/2016 Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher (“10/2017/2016 Fisher Decl.”) (Dkt. No. 275-2), filed with the Motion for Preliminary Approval (Dkt. No. 275). All capitalized terms herein that are not otherwise defined have the definitions set forth in the Settlement Agreement.

1 Class are: (a) Hyland’s employees, officers and directors, (b) persons or 2 entities who purchased the Products for the purpose of re-sale, (c) 3 retailers or resellers of the Products, (d) governmental entities, (e) 4 persons who timely and properly exclude themselves from the Class as provided herein, and (f) the Court, the Court’s immediate family, and Court staff.

5 Id. at § 1.36.

6 This is an excellent recovery for Class Members. The heart of Plaintiffs’ 7 claim is that Defendants’ products are no more effective than a placebo. See Dkt.
8 No. 44, Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint (the “CAC”), ¶¶ 2 and 63.
9 In Allen v. Hyland’s, Inc., the plaintiffs advanced nearly identical claims against 10 Defendants and a jury found for Defendants on every claim. See Allen v. Hyland’s
11 Inc., C.D. Cal. Case No. 12-cv-01150-DMG-MAN, Dkt. No. 426 (Verdict Form); 12 see also Lewert v. Boiron, Inc., C.D. Cal. Case No. 11-cv-10803, Dkt. No. 447
13 (Verdict Form). The result of the Allen trial is sobering – class members recovered 14 nothing. Here, the Settlement provides Class Members with a 100% recovery of the 15 cost of the Settlement Class Products without the substantial risk of trial. See 16 Settlement Agreement, § 3. This total relief is available for two Settlement Class 17 Products without proof of purchase, and an unlimited number of Settlement Class 18 Products with proof. Id. To date, the response to the Settlement has been 19 overwhelmingly positive – more than 129,000 Class Members have submitted claims 20 and no Class Members have objected. See Declaration of Lana Lucchessi, ¶¶ 17-18.
21 Additionally, Class Counsel also successfully negotiated injunctive relief to require 22 Defendants to include a money back guarantee on their website. See Settlement 23 Agreement, § 3.2. Despite Defendants’ recent success in the Allen case, Class 24 Counsel successfully negotiated a Settlement that will provide total relief to many 25 Class Members.

26 Class Counsel request that the Court approve a total payment of $2,900,000 as 27 an award of attorneys’ fees, costs and expenses. Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher in 28

1 Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and 2 Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and Expenses, and Service Awards
3 (the “6/19/2017 Fisher Decl.”), ¶ 33. As explained below, the lodestar technique 4 confirms that the amount of attorneys’ fees and expenses is fair, reasonable, and 5 supported by the law of this Circuit. See infra. Class Counsel collectively worked 6 10,608.15 hours on this case for a total lodestar, at current billing rates, of 7 $5,515,329.75. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 44, Ex. B; Declaration of Antonio Vozzolo 8 in Support of Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and Expenses (the 9 “6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl.”), ¶¶ 14-16, Exs. C, D, and E. Furthermore, Class 10 Counsel incurred $754,804.19 in expenses and costs that were necessary to the 11 prosecution of this case, and were carefully and reasonably expended. See 6/19/2017 12 Fisher Decl., ¶ 47, Ex. C (an itemized listing of each out-of-pocket expense incurred 13 by Bursor & Fisher in connection with this case); 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 23, 14 Exs. F and G (same). Rather than seeking their full lodestar plus expenses, Class 15 Counsel have, after extensive negotiations with Defendants, agreed to request an 16 award of $2,900,000 that represents a significant reduction to their estimated fees 17 and expenses. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 44. Indeed, this award, after expenses and 18 costs, provides Class Counsel with only $2,145,195.80 of its $5,515,329.75 lodestar 19 – an inverse multiplier of .39. Id. This reduced request is presumptively reasonable 20 and should be approved by this Court. See Gudimetla v. Ambow Educ. Holding, 21 2015 WL 12752443, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 16, 2015) (“The resulting so-called 22 negative multiplier suggests that the percentage-based amount is reasonable and fair
23 based on the time and effort expended by class counsel.”) (quoting In re Portal
24 Software, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2007 WL 4171201, at *16 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2007)); see 25 also Zaksorn v. Am. Honda Motor Co., 2015 WL 3622990, at *15 (E.D. Cal. June 26 9, 2015) (Bursor & Fisher agreed to a .75 inverse multiplier and Judge Kimberly 27 Mueller granted their fee request in full).

1 Finally, Plaintiffs Forcellati and Roemmich request that the Court award them 2 service awards in the amount of $5,000 each to account for the significant time and 3 effort they invested in this case on behalf of the Class.

4 Under the supervision of Magistrate Judge Jay C. Gandhi, the Parties agreed to 5 these requested fees, expenses, costs and service awards after the other substantive 6 settlement terms were resolved. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 31. Accordingly, these 7 requested amounts are the result of an arm’s-length market transaction. Id.

8 II. BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

9 The Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement (which is 10 incorporated herein by reference), as well as the Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher, 11 submitted herewith, contain a detailed discussion of the long history of this 12 vigorously contested action. Of particular relevance to this motion, the Settlement 13 Agreement acknowledges that Class Counsel is entitled to a payment of attorneys’ 14 fees and permits Class Counsel to petition the Court for a reasonable award of 15 attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses. See Settlement Agreement § 4.2. Class 16 Counsel’s application to the Court for Attorneys’ Fee and Expense Award will not 17 exceed $2.9 million. Id. Any fee paid by Defendant is separate and apart from the 18 Class’ recovery. Id.

19 Section 4.1 of the Settlement Agreement also provides Defendants shall not 20 oppose a Service Award of $5,000 dollars to each of the Class Representatives.
21 Class Counsel are requesting that the Class Representatives receive these Service 22 Awards of $5,000 each to compensate them for their efforts in pursuing this 23 litigation on behalf of the Settlement Class for more than five years.

24 III. THE CLRA PROVIDES FOR A MANDATORY FEE AWARD

25 The Class Representatives brought claims against Defendants under various 26 theories, including under California’s Consumers Legal Remedies Act, Civil Code 27 §§ 1750, et seq. (the “CLRA”). For CLRA claims, an award of fees to the prevailing 28 party is mandatory under Civil Code § 1780(e), which provides: “The court shall

1 award court costs and attorney’s fees to a prevailing plaintiff in litigation filed 2 pursuant to this section.” As the California Court of Appeal has explained, for a 3 Court in construing this provision:

4 The word ‘shall’ is usually deemed mandatory, unless a mandatory 5 construction would not be consistent with the legislative purpose 6 underlying the statute.” (West Shield Investigations and Sec.
7 Consultants v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal. App. 4th 935, 949, 98 8 Cal.Rptr.2d 612.) Our Supreme Court has observed that “the 9 availability of costs and attorney’s fees to prevailing plaintiffs is integral 10 to making the CLRA an effective piece of consumer legislation, 11 increasing the financial feasibility of bringing suits under the statute.” 12 (Broughton v. Cigna Healthplans (1999) 21 Cal. 4th 1066, 1085, 90 13 Cal. Rptr. 2d 334, 998 P.2d 67.) Thus, a mandatory construction of the 14 word “shall” in section 1780(d) is consistent with the legislative purpose 15 underlying the statute.

16 Kim v. Euromotors West/The Auto Gallery, 149 Cal. App. 4th 170, 178 (2007).

17 Here, Class Counsel have negotiated a settlement that will provide Class 18 Members with complete relief for the purchase of two of the Class Settlement 19 Products without proof of purchase. Settlement Agreement § 3. Plaintiffs have thus 20 succeeded by realizing their litigation objectives in large part. As the Settlement 21 Class is the “prevailing party,” a fee award to Class Counsel is mandatory under the 22 CLRA. Graciano v. Robinson Ford Sales, 144 Cal. App. 4th 140, 150-51 (2006).

23 IV. THE REQUESTED FEE IS FAIR AND REASONABLE UNDER 24 LODESTAR PRINCIPLES

25 The lodestar approach is the preferred method when settling a class action in 26 which CLRA claims were alleged. Tadepalli v. Uber Techs., Inc., 2016 WL 27 1622881, at *10 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 25, 2016) (applying California's lodestar test where 28 a class action settlement agreement and CLRA both provided the basis for the 29 plaintiff's attorneys fees' motion); see also Milligan v. Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., 30 Inc., 2012 WL 10277179, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 2012) (“Where a defendant pays 31 the fees separately pursuant to a fee-shifting statute like the CLRA, the ‘lodestar’ 32 method is preferred.”)

1 Similarly, the “lodestar” method is preferred where there is no formal common 2 fund. See Fischel v. Equitable Life Assur. Soc’y of U.S., 307 F.3d 997, 1006 (9th Cir.
3 2002); Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1029 (9th Cir. 1998); In re
4 Washington Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec. Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1296 (9th Cir. 1994) 5 (holding that district court did not abuse discretion in choosing lodestar method).
6 While the percentage method is easier to apply in cases involving a capped common 7 fund, here, the lodestar approach is the most straightforward because the Settlement 8 Agreement places no cap on Defendants’ total liability and does not include a 9 common fund. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029 (affirming choice of lodestar method 10 where calculation of value of common fund was uncertain); Grays Harbor Adventist 11 Christian School v. Carrier Corp., 2008 WL 1901988 (W.D. Wash. April 24, 2008) 12 (holding that where “[s]ettlement relief will be paid on a claims-made basis with no 13 cap to the relief available, consideration of attorneys’ fees lends itself more readily to 14 the lodestar method”). The lodestar method is particularly appropriate where, as 15 here, Class Counsel has also negotiated substantial injunctive relief. In re HP Laser 16 Printer Litig., 2011 WL 3861703, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 31, 2011) (“The attorney fee 17 award is reasonable compared to the degree of success, particularly regarding the 18 injunctive relief obtained.”).

19 The lodestar figure is calculated by multiplying the hours reasonably spent on 20 the case by appropriate hourly rates based on the locale and attorney experience.
21 See, e.g., In re Bluetooth Headset Prod. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 941–942 (9th Cir.
22 2011); Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029. The resulting lodestar figure may be adjusted 23 upward or downward by use of a multiplier to account for factors including, but not 24 limited to: (i) the quality of the representation; (ii) the benefit obtained for the class; 25 (iii) the complexity and novelty of the issues presented; and (iv) the risk of 26 nonpayment. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029; see also Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc.,

1 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th Cir. 1975).² Courts typically apply a multiplier or enhancement 2 to the lodestar to account for the substantial risk that plaintiffs’ counsel undertook by 3 accepting a case where no payment would be received if the lawsuit did not succeed.
4 Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1051 (9th Cir. 2002). Thus, a fee that 5 approximates lodestar is considered presumptively reasonable. See Morales v. City
6 of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 363-64, fn. 8 (9th Cir. 1996) (“There is a strong 7 presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee.”). Fee requests 8 which produce an inverse lodestar multiplier further support an inference of 9 reasonableness. See Gudimetla, 2015 WL 12752443, at *9 (“The resulting so-called 10 negative multiplier suggests that the percentage-based amount is reasonable and fair
11 based on the time and effort expended by class counsel.”) (quoting In re Portal
12 Software, Inc. Securities Litigation, 2007 WL 4171201, at *16); Schiller v. David’s 13 Bridal, Inc., 2012 WL 2117001, at *23 (E.D. Cal. June 11, 2012) (“An implied 14 negative multiplier supports the reasonableness of the percentage fee request”); 15 Zaskorn, 2015 WL 3622990, at *15 (finding fee request reasonable where class 16 counsel voluntarily agreed to an inverse multiplier of .75); In re Marsh ERISA Litig., 17 265 F.R.D. 128, 146 (S.D.N.Y. 2010) (fact that counsel sought only 87.6% of their 18 lodestar “strongly suggests that the requested fee is reasonable.”).

19 Here, Class Counsel request an award of $2,900,000.00 consisting of 20 reimbursement of $754,804.19 in costs and expenses and $2,145,195.80 in attorneys’

21 _____
22 ² Kerr identifies twelve factors for analyzing the reasonableness of an attorneys’ fees request:

23 (1) The time labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the 24 questions involved; (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal service 25 properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to 26 acceptance of the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is 27 fixed or contingent; (7) time limitations imposed by the client or the 28 circumstances; (8) the amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and the ability of the attorneys; (10) the ‘undesirability’ of the case; (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; and (12) awards in similar cases.

1 fees. This award represents a significant discount on Class Counsel’s lodestar and 2 ensures the reasonableness of their request. Because this amount is well within 3 Ninth Circuit standards, this Court should award the requested attorneys’ fees to 4 Class Counsel.

5 A. Class Counsel Spent a Reasonable Number of Hours on 6 this Litigation

7 Class Counsel’s declarations describe the extensive work performed in 8 connection with this litigation over the past five years. Bursor & Fisher, P.A., and 9 Faruqi & Faruqi, LLP, carefully coordinated their work throughout this litigation to 10 avoid any duplication of effort. To support this request, Class Counsel are separately 11 submitting their detailed daily billing records showing what work was done and by 12 whom. See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 40-44, Exs. B and C; Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 13-13 21, Exs. D, C, and E.

14 This was a novel case that involved a significant amount of original work.
15 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl. ¶¶ 2-31; Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 5. To Class Counsel’s knowledge, 16 this is the first case challenging the efficacy of a homeopathic product certified by a 17 court as a class action. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 6. As such, this case required 18 original legal research and innovative representation to develop the claims and 19 theories of liability and damages. This case was hard-fought for more than five years 20 and concerned complex factual and legal allegations. Indeed, as the Court 21 previously recognized, “before entering into the Agreement, this Action was 22 on the eve of trial.” Dkt. No. 288. Given the technical nature of the litigation, the 23 tenacious battles over class certification and summary judgment, the effort put into 24 trial preparation, and the difficulty of the settlement negotiations, the number of 25 hours Class Counsel spent was reasonable.

26 B. Class Counsel Worked at a Reasonable Hourly Rate

27 The hourly rates for each of the lawyers who staffed the case, which are set 28 forth in the accompanying declarations and exhibits thereto, are reasonable and 1 commensurate with rates approved in other class actions litigated in this District.

2 See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 48-51; 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 24-29, Exs. H-N.
3 In comparison, Defense Counsel the average billing of Norton Rose Fulbright US, 4 LLP, is $775 for partners and $400 for associates, with highs of $900 and $515 5 respectively. See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 50.³ In this district the reasonableness of 6 hourly billing rates is determined “based on evidence of other courts approving 7 similar rates or other attorneys engaged in similar litigation charging similar rates.” 8 Parkinson v. Hyundai Motor Am., 796 F. Supp. 2d 1160, 1172 (C.D. Cal. 2010).

9 Courts within this District have repeatedly held rates commensurate with Class 10 Counsel’s rates to be fair and reasonable. In re Amgen Sec. Litig., 2016 U.S. Dist.
11 LEXIS 148577, *27 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 25, 2016) (approving “a billing rate ranging 12 from $750 to $985 per hour for partners, $500 to $800 per hour for ‘of 13 counsels’/senior counsel, and $300 to $725 per hour for other attorneys.”); Kearney 14 v. Hyundai Motor Am., 2013 WL 3287996, at *8 (C.D. Cal. June 28, 16 consumer class action); Chambers v. Whirlpool Corp., 214 F. Supp. 3d 877 (C.D.

17 Cal. 2016) (“quoting a National Law Journal survey of regional billing rates

11 Order and Decree Granting Final Approval to Class Action Settlement (Nov. 9, 12 2012) (approving requested fee rate). Here, Class Counsel’s rates are particularly 13 reasonable because the requested fee is a fraction of Class Counsel’s lodestar. See 14 Gudimetla, 2015 WL 12752443, at *9 (finding the rates reasonable and fair in light 15 of “negative multiplier”); see also California v. Infineon Techs. AG (In re Dynamic 18 approximately .82 and .71 respectively ... alone [where] virtually sufficient” to 19 establish reasonableness).

20 C. The Requested Fee is Particularly Reasonable in Light
21 of the Relevant Factors

22 The lodestar analysis is not limited to the simple mathematical calculation of 23 Class Counsel’s base fee. See Morales, supra, 96 F.3d at 363-64. Rather, Class 24 Counsel’s actual lodestar may be enhanced according to those factors that have not 25 been “subsumed within the initial calculation of hours reasonably expended at a 26 reasonable rate.” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 434 n.9 (1983) (citation 27 omitted); see also Morales, 96 F.3d at 364. In a historical review of numerous class 28 action settlements, the Ninth Circuit found that lodestar multipliers normally range

1 from 0.6 to 19.6, with most (83%) falling between 1 and 4. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d
2 at 1051, n.6; Gonzalez v. S. Wine & Spirits of Am. Inc., 2014 WL 1630674, at *5 3 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 24, 2014) (Awarding a “1.18 multiplier, taking into account the 4 contingent nature of the case and the delay in class counsel receiving its full fee 5 award.”); see In re Washington Public Power Supply System Securities Litigation, 19 6 F.3d at 1300–1301 (noting that “courts have routinely enhanced the lodestar to 7 reflect the risk of non-payment in common fund cases” and finding district court’s 8 failure to apply multiplier to lodestar calculation was abuse of discretion where case 9 was “fraught with risk and recovery was far from certain”); see also Alba Conte & 10 Herbert B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 14:03 (3d ed. 1992) (recognizing 11 that multipliers of 1 to 4 are frequently awarded). In considering the reasonableness 12 of attorneys’ fees and any requested multiplier, the Ninth Circuit has directed district 13 courts to consider the time and labor required, the novelty and complexity of the 14 litigation, the skill and experience of counsel, the results obtained, and awards in 15 similar cases. Kerr, 526 F.2d at 70; Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 898-900 (1984).
16 All of these factors further support the reasonableness of the requested fee award in 17 this action. Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051.

18 1. Novelty and Complexity of this Litigation

19 The novelty and complexity of this case strongly supports the requested fee.
20 Class Counsel faced difficult and novel legal and factual issues, which required 21 creativity and presented significant challenges. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 2-31. To 22 Class Counsel’s knowledge, this is the first case challenging the efficacy of a 23 homeopathic product certified by a court as a class action. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 24 6. As such, this case required original legal research and innovative representation to 25 develop the claims and theories of liability and damages. Id.

26 Class Counsel needed to thoroughly investigate Defendants’ products and the 27 regulations relevant to homeopathic products prior to filing complaints on behalf of 28

1 the Plaintiffs. Id. ¶ 6. This extensive pre-suit investigation allowed Class Counsel to 2 successfully oppose Defendants’ two motions to dismiss. Id., ¶¶ 9-12.

3 At class certification, Class Counsel faced significant uncertainty in the Ninth 4 Circuit about the standard for ascertainability at class certification. Id. ¶¶ 16-18 .
5 The Third Circuit had recently issued a decision in Carrera v. Bayer Corp., 727 F.3d
6 300 (3d Cir. 2013) holding that a plaintiff seeking to certify a class must propose a 7 feasible and reliable means of identifying class members. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 8 16-18. The parties submitted supplemental briefing on the issue of whether the 9 proposed class was ascertainable. Dkt. No. 133. In a landmark ruling, the Court 10 granted Plaintiffs’ motion for class certification. Dkt. No. 144. The Court declined 11 to follow Carrera and held that the ascertainability standard from Carrera was 12 inapplicable in the Ninth Circuit. Id. at 5-6. The Court certified a nationwide Rule 13 23(b)(3) class for monetary relief with respect to Plaintiffs’ claims for violation of 14 Magnuson-Moss Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301, et seq., breach of express warranty, breach 15 of implied warranty, violation of the CLRA, violation of the FAL, and violation of 16 the UCL. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 18.

17 Furthermore, to support Plaintiffs’ claims that Defendants’ products were 18 ineffective, Class Counsel conducted extensive discovery that required delving into 19 complicated and technical scientific issues. 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 13-15, 21.
20 For example, while this litigation was pending, a study concerning the efficacy of 21 one of the products at issue was in progress at the University of Washington. Id. ¶ 22 21. To address this ongoing study, Plaintiffs (1) subpoenaed the University of 23 Washington for study documents, (2) deposed the chief investigator of the study 24 before and after the final results of the study, (3) deposed Defendants’ other experts 25 regarding the results of the study; (4) directed Plaintiffs’ experts to prepare 26 supplemental expert reports regarding the study; and (5) addressed the technical 27 arguments related to this study in their successful opposition to Defendants’ motion 28 for summary judgment. Id.

1 In light of the novelty and complexity of this case, the trailblazing work it 2 required, and concomitant risks to counsel, a substantially higher fee request would 3 be justified.

4 2. Class Counsel Provided Exceptional
5 Representation Prosecuting this Complex Case

6 Class Counsel respectfully submit that they conducted themselves in this 7 action in a professional, diligent and efficient manner. Class Counsel are highly-8 respected and experienced leaders in the field of consumer class action litigation.
9 See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 35-39, Ex. A; 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 7-11, Exs.
10 A and B. Tasks were allocated to prevent “over-lawyering” and inefficiency. The 11 bulk of the work was performed by a small number of attorneys fully familiar with 12 the complex factual and legal issues presented by this litigation. This division of 13 labor permitted the work to be done efficiently, resulting in an economy of service 14 and avoiding duplication of effort.

15 Class Counsel invested a substantial amount of time and resources into 16 investigating and prosecuting the matters alleged in this action. See supra IV(A); see 17 also 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 2-31; see also 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 6. The 18 successful conclusion of this litigation required Class Counsel to commit a 19 significant amount of time, personnel, and expenses, on a contingency basis, with 20 absolutely no guarantee of being compensated in the end.

21 Additionally, the ability of Class Counsel to obtain a favorable settlement in 22 the face of a high-caliber adversary also reflects the superior quality of Class 23 Counsel’s work. See, e.g., In re Warner Commc’ns Sec. Litig., 618 F. Supp. 735, 24 749 (S.D.N.Y. 1985); In re King Res. Co. Sec. Litig., 420 F. Supp. 610, 635–36 (D.
25 Colo. 1976). Defendant is represented by Norton Rose Fulbright US, LLP, one of 26 the largest, most prominent, and respected law firms in the world. Norton Rose has 27 extensive experience in class action litigation. Class Counsel’s ability to obtain a 28

1 favorable settlement in the face of this sophisticated and skilled adversary reflects 2 the superior quality of their work.

3 3. Class Counsel Obtained Excellent Class Benefits

4 The Settlement provides significant relief for the Class. As the Allen case 5 demonstrated, there were substantial uncertainties about the outcome of this case.
6 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 52. Although Class Counsel believed this case to be 7 meritorious, a realistic assessment indicates substantial risks, particularly because 8 much of the outcome at trial would have turned on a “battle of experts” between 9 Plaintiffs’ and Defendants’ highly-qualified experts. Id. Despite the novelty of the 10 claims, the lack of controlling authority, and the failure of the Allen claims at trial, 11 Class Counsel negotiated a Settlement that provides Class Members with a 100% 12 recovery of the cost of the Settlement Class Products without the substantial risk of 13 trial. See Settlement Agreement, § 3. Furthermore, this total relief is available for 14 two Settlement Class Products without proof of purchase, and an unlimited number 15 of Settlement Class Products with proof. Id. This monetary relief directly addresses 16 Plaintiffs’ primary allegations. See CAC ¶¶ 2 and 63. Class Counsel also 17 successfully negotiated injunctive relief that requires Defendants to include a money 18 back guarantee on their website. See Settlement Agreement § 3.2. This provision is 19 not time limited, and will thus provide continued relief to Class Members and future 20 purchasers. Id.

21 Under the Settlement Agreement, Class Members will receive significant 22 financial recovery now, without the delay and the risk of continued litigation. As 23 such, the results achieved by Class Counsel strongly support the fee request. See 24 Shames v. Hertz Corp., 2012 WL 5392159 at *7 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2012) (approving 25 Plaintiff’s fee request of $5,123,336.00, a 20% lodestar reduction, where a claims-26 made settlement provided a cash recovery of 67% of actual damages).

27 Class Counsel avoided considerable risks, burdens, and expenses to the Parties 28 and the judicial system by conducting a thorough investigation and achieving a

1 favorable Settlement. The results achieved by Class Counsel here fully justify the 2 requested fee.

3 4. Class Counsel Faced a Substantial Risk of 4 Nonpayment

5 A critical factor bearing on fee petitions in the Ninth Circuit is the level of risk 6 of non-payment faced by Class Counsel at the inception of the litigation. See, e.g., 7 Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048. The contingent nature of Class Counsel’s fee recovery, 8 coupled with the uncertainty that any recovery would be obtained, are significant. In 9 re Wash. Pub. Power, 19 F.3d at 1300. In Wash. Pub. Power, the Ninth Circuit 10 recognized that:

11 It is an established practice in the private legal market to reward 12 attorneys for taking the risk of non-payment by paying them a premium 13 over their normal hourly rates for winning contingency cases ... [I]f this 14 ‘bonus’ methodology did not exist, very few lawyers could take on the 15 representation of a class client given the investment of substantial time, 16 effort, and money, especially in light of the risks of recovering nothing.

17 Id. at 1299-1300 (citations omitted) (internal quotations marks omitted); see also 18 Fischel, 307 F.3d at 1008 (“It is an abuse of discretion to fail to apply a risk 19 multiplier, however, when (1) attorneys take a case with the expectation that they 20 will receive a risk enhancement if they prevail, (2) their hourly rate does not reflect 21 that risk, and (3) there is evidence that the case was risky.”).

22 Throughout this case, Class Counsel expended substantial time and costs to 23 prosecute a class action suit with no guarantee of compensation or reimbursement in 24 the hope of prevailing against a sophisticated Defendant represented by high-caliber 25 attorneys. See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 52; see 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 30-31.
26 Moreover, there are significant concerns regarding the financial instability of 27 Defendants. Specifically, Daniel Krombrach, the President and Chief Financial 28 officer of Standard Homeopathic Company, stated “the Company's cash flow and its ability to fund its ongoing operations have been seriously compromised.” 6/19/2017

1 Fisher Decl., ¶ 52, Ex. O, Affiliated Health Care Associates, P.C. v. Handit2
2 Network, LLC, Case No. 1:13-cv-05782, Dkt. No. 101, the Declaration of Danial M.
3 Krombach (N.D. Ill Jan. 6, 2016). “[R]isk that the class will lose should the suit go 4 to judgment on the merits justifies a compromise that affords a lower award with 5 certainty.” Murray v. GMAC Mortg. Corp., 434 F.3d 948, 952 (7th Cir. 2006). This 6 fact alone supports a finding that Class Counsel’s requested fee is fair and 7 reasonable.

8 Regardless, Class Counsel obtained a highly favorable result for the Class, 9 knowing that if their efforts were ultimately unsuccessful, they would receive no 10 compensation or reimbursement for their costs. Class Counsel prosecuted the case 11 with the type of vigor and skill required to ensure justice for the Class.

12 V. DEFENDANTS’ AGREEMENT AND JUDGE GANDHI’S
13 RECOMMENDATION, ALSO SHOWS THE REASONABLE OF THIS 14 REQUEST

15 The fact that Defendants, after extensive negotiation, agreed to include this 16 Fee and Expense Award in the Settlement Agreement is also an appropriate factor 17 for the Court to consider in reviewing the fee and expense provisions of the 18 settlement. The parties have participated in contentious and hard fought settlement 19 negotiations throughout the pendency of this action. See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶
20 26-31. These negotiations began in October 2012 when the parties participated in a 21 full-day, in-person mediation with Robert A. Meyer of Loeb & Loeb, LLP. See 22 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 26. After a second unsuccessful all day mediation with 23 Mr. Meyer in May 2013, the parties again failed to reach a settlement. Id.

24 In February 2015, Judge King ordered the parties to participate in a settlement 25 conference with Magistrate Judge Jay C. Gandhi. Id. ¶ 27. Over the next year and a 26 half the parties met for full-day in-person settlement conferences with Judge Gandhi 27 on three separate occasions. Id. ¶¶ 28-30. After the final settlement conference, the 28 parties, communicating through Judge Gandhi, finally reached this Settlement on July 18, 2016. Id. ¶ 30. The Parties agreed to the substantive terms of the Settlement

1 before agreeing to the Fee and Expense Award. Id. ¶ 31. The Fee and Expense
2 Award was ultimately agreed to with the assistance and recommendation of Judge 3 Gandhi. Id. ¶¶ 30-31 ; see, e.g., Chun-Hoon v. McKee Foods Corp., 716 F. Supp. 2d 4 848, 852 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (“The arm’s-length negotiations, including a day-long 5 mediation before Judge Lynch, indicate that the settlement was reached in a 6 procedurally sound manner.”); In re M.L. Stern Overtime Litig., 2009 WL 995864, 7 at *5 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 13, 2009) (granting preliminary approval and stating that “the 8 settlement was reached with the supervision and assistance of an experienced and 9 well-respected independent mediator”); Cohorst v. BRE Properties, Inc., 2011 WL 10 7061923, at *12 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 14, 2011) (“For example, voluntary mediation 11 before a retired judge [] are highly indicative of fairness.”) (internal quotation marks 12 omitted); Satchell v. Fed. Express Corp., 2007 WL 1114010, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Apr.
13 13, 2007) (“The assistance of an experienced mediator in the settlement process 14 confirms that the settlement is non-collusive.”).

15 Accordingly, the Settlement was negotiated in such a manner as to avoid any 16 potential conflict with the Settlement Class, or any argument that such amounts were 17 “traded off” for lesser class consideration. See 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 27-31; see 18 also Dkt. No. 288, at *1 (“The parties’ Agreement was reached as a result of 19 extensive arm’s length negotiations between the parties and their counsel.”).

20 In Hensley, 461 U.S. at 437, the United States Supreme Court held that 21 negotiated attorneys’ fee provisions are the “ideal” toward which the parties should 22 strive: “a request for attorneys’ fees should not result in a second major litigation.
23 Ideally, of course, litigants will settle the amount of a fee.” Fee arrangements 24 between plaintiffs and defendants in class actions are to be encouraged, particularly 25 where, as here, the record shows the attorneys’ fees to be requested were negotiated 26 separately after the settlement terms of the class claims has been agreed to by the 27 parties, and are to be paid on top of the class consideration. Johnson v. Georgia 28 Highway Express, Inc., 488 F.2d 714, 720 (5th Cir. 1974) (“[I]n cases of this kind,

1 we encourage counsel on both sides to utilize their best efforts to understandingly, 2 sympathetically, and professionally arrive at a settlement as to attorneys' fees.”).

3 As Judge Posner observed in In Re Continental Illinois Securities Litigation, 4 962 F.2d 566 (7th Cir. 1992), the virtue in the negotiation of fees is that the “markets 5 know market value better than judges do.” Id. at 570. Here, the Parties negotiated 6 the amount of fees and expenses set forth in the Settlement Agreement under market 7 conditions: Class Counsel wished to maximize fees to compensate them, as the law 8 encourages, for risk, innovation, and delay; Defendant wished to pay the minimum 9 amount it could, as any monies not approved would be retained by them. The result 10 is an arm’s-length negotiated amount set by market forces, and resolved only after 11 the other settlement terms had been agreed to in principle. Such a process provides 12 further indicia of the reasonableness of this requested amount.

13 VI. CLASS COUNSEL’S EXPENSES ARE REASONABLE AND 14 NECESSARILY INCURRED TO ACHIEVE THE BENEFIT
15 OBTAINED ON BEHALF OF THE CLASS

16 To date, Class Counsel incurred out-of-pocket costs and expenses in the 17 aggregate amount of $754,804.19 in prosecuting this litigation on behalf of the class.
18 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 46-47, Ex. C; 6/19/2017 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 23, Exs. F and 19 G. These expenses are itemized in the declarations submitted to the Court herewith.

20 The Ninth Circuit allows recovery of pre-settlement litigation costs in the 21 context of a class action settlement. See Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 974 22 (9th Cir. 2003). Class Counsel is entitled to reimbursement for standard out-of-23 pocket expenses that an attorney would ordinarily bill a fee paying client. See, e.g., 24 Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994). The incurred costs include class 25 notice, expert fees, court fees, copying fees, courier charges, legal research charges, 26 telephone/facsimile fees, travel costs, postage fees, and other related costs. See 27 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 46-47, Ex. C (an itemized listing of each out-of-pocket 28 expense incurred by Bursor & Fisher in connection with this case); 6/19/2017
Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 23], Exs. F and G (same).

1 The costs and expenses that arose from this action were particularly 2 substantial for three reasons. First, this Action was settled on the eve of trial. Thus, 3 unlike many class action settlements, Class Counsel bore the costs of fully litigating 4 and preparing to try this case. Second, because of the technical nature of this action, 5 expert expenses and costs associated with depositions were necessary to effectively 6 prosecute this action. Indeed, there were twenty-four depositions taken in this case.
7 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 22. Third, Class Counsel bore the substantial cost of 8 providing Class Members with direct notice of the Court’s class certification order.
9 Dkt. No. 144.

10 Class Counsel’s cost and expenses were necessarily and reasonably incurred to 11 bring this case to a successful conclusion, and they reflect market rates for the 12 various categories of expenses incurred.

13 VII. THE REQUESTED SERVICE AWARDS FOR CLASS
14 REPRESENTATIVES RE REASONABLE AND STANDARD

15 In recognition of their efforts on behalf of the Class, and subject to the 16 approval of the Court, Defendants have agreed to pay Class Representatives $5,000 17 each (for a total of $10,000), as appropriate compensation for their time and effort 18 serving as the Class Representatives in this litigation.

19 Service awards “are fairly typical in class action cases.” Rodriguez v. W.
20 Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 958 (9th Cir. 2009). Such awards “are intended to 21 compensate class representatives for work done on behalf of the class, to make up for 22 financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, and, sometimes, to 23 recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney general.” Rodriguez, 563 F.3d 24 at 958–59. Service awards are committed to the sound discretion of the trial court 25 and should be awarded based upon the court’s consideration of, inter alia, the 26 amount of time and effort spent on the litigation, the duration of the litigation and the 27 degree of personal gain obtained as a result of the litigation. See Van Vranken v. Atl.
28 Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995). “Many courts in the Ninth

1 Circuit have also held that a $5,000 incentive award is “presumptively reasonable.”
2 Hawthorne v. Umpqua Bank, 2015 WL 1927342, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2015)
3 (citing In re Toys R Us–Delaware, Inc. FACTA Litig., 295 F.R.D. 438, 470–72 (C.D.
4 Cal. 2014)); see also In re LinkedIn User Privacy Litig., 309 F.R.D. 573, 592 (N.D.
5 Cal. 2015)(“a $5,000 payment is presumptively reasonable”); Dunleavy v. Nadler (In 6 re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig.), 213 F.3d 454, 463 (9th Cir. 2000) (approving a 7 $5,000 incentive award for each class representative).

8 The requested amounts of $5,000 for each Class Representative reflect the 9 involvement and time each Class Representative dedicated to the case. The 10 involvement of the Class Representatives in this action was critical to the ultimate 11 success of the case. Class Counsel consulted with the Class Representatives 12 throughout the investigation, filing, prosecution and settlement of this litigation.
13 6/19/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 62-66; Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 32-36. As such, Plaintiffs 14 Forcellati and Roemmich were actively involved in the litigation and devoted 15 substantial time and effort to the case. They consulted with Class Counsel frequently 16 and reviewed a wide variety of documents related to this case including the 17 complaint and Settlement Agreement. Id. Most importantly, Plaintiffs provided 18 detailed information about their purchases and sat for depositions. Id. Moreover, 19 Plaintiffs Forcellati and Roemmich were prepared to “go the distance” in this 20 litigation to continue to represent the Class and fight to obtain significant relief on 21 their behalf. Id. Their actions and dedication have conferred a significant benefit on 22 Class members across the United States.

23 Accordingly, incentive awards of $5,000 for each of the Class Representatives 24 are fair and reasonable.⁴

25 ⁴ See, e.g., Van Vranken, 901 F. Supp. at 299–300 (incentive award of $50,000); 26 Glass v. UBS Fin. Servs., Inc., 2007 WL 221862, at *16–17 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 27 2007), aff'd, 331 F. App'x 452 (9th Cir. 2009) (N.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2007) (awarding 28 $100,000 divided among four plaintiffs in overtime wages class action); Harris v.
Vector Mktg. Corp., 2012 WL 381202, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 6, 2012) (awarding

1 VIII. CONCLUSION

2 Class Counsel were able to obtain a settlement that represents an excellent 3 result for the Class. This Settlement is the culmination of the determined and skilled 4 work of Class Counsel for more than five years. As a result, Plaintiffs respectfully 5 request that this Court award the following:

- 6 • $2,900,000 in attorneys’ fees, and costs and expenses to Class Counsel; 7 and
- 8 • Service Awards to Class Representatives Forcellati and Roemmich of 9 $5,000 each (for a total of $10,000).

10 The requests are reasonable and appropriate, and will not reduce the benefits 11 to the class in any way.
